This morning we check out of the hotel and proceed on a tour of Buenos Aires.

During the city tour through the northern area of Buenos Aires, we visit the popular and elegant neighborhoods of Recoleta and Palermo - considered the city's aristocratic zone, as they were once home to the old Buenos Aires elite. We will see magnificent mansions that belonged to landowning families of the early 1900s aristocracy. Today, many of these buildings house foreign embassies, but they still retain their dazzling and distinct French architectural style. The northern area also features a wide variety of public parks, which we will explore during the tour. We suggest discovering the city through some of its most iconic attractions, such as the Recoleta Cemetery, filled with hidden stories behind the tombs of Argentina's most prominent families. We will also visit the Basilica of Our Lady of the Pillar and the Recoleta Cultural Center, both formerly part of the old Recoletos monks' monastery. Other highlights include the stunning architecture of the Law School of the University of Buenos Aires and the city's most modern monument - the Floralis Genérica, a massive 23-meter tall, 18-ton metal flower sculpture.
